Special Notices.

American Widows' Relief Association.—The following extract from the Constitution will give much desired information of the objects of this Association:

Section 14. The leading object of the Association shall be to help that class of widows who have been reduced by misfortune to want, and who have too much native pride to beg or become voluntary recipients of charity.

Sec. 15. The Trustees will, so far as possible, exclude all who have come to want through bands of robbery, indolence, insobriety, or intemperance.

Sec. 16. Women, with families of helpless children, who are still striving to live next and respectable, shall be the sole object of our benevolence.

Sec. 17. It shall be a leading object to assist families who have been thrown out of employment and thus reduced to poverty, and who only need a little temporary aid to save them from absolute want.

Sec. 18. It shall also be another leading object with the Association to furnish employment, either by assisting persons to get situations in the country or city, where they can get work, or by procuring voluntary recipients of charity.

Sec. 19. No Trustee shall appropriate over ten dollars to a family at one time, except in cases without the order of the Board of Directors and consent of one or more of the Trustees.

Sec. 20. Adults who have been assisted because out of employment, and who are able to earn their support in any situation, whether such as they have been placed in, shall no longer receive the aid of the Association.

Sec. 21. And, if any person or desert persons who have formerly enjoyed a respectable position in society, who are now poor, shall be entitled to receive the funds of the Association, until such time as to save them from the degradation of residence in the Alm-House with foreign paupers.

Sec. 22. To widow of American or native women and children, of reputable character, who may be confined, those who must be sought after rather than those who seek for aid.

Sec. 23. Each Trustee shall appoint one or more local Vicars in his district, who shall, as far as practicable, be known to him or the Secretary, and to whom facts necessary to be known, whatever they may be, shall be communicated.

Sec. 24. Fifty dollars, or five dollars a year for ten years, shall constitute life membership.
